ase minimum stic carry bags

The Plastic Waste Management Rules, 2016, also aim to promote use of plastic waste for road construction as per Indian Road Congress guidelines for gainful utilisation of waste and also address the waste disposal issue.

Stating that an eco-friendly product, which is a complete substitute of plastic in all uses, has not been found till date, the minister said in the absence of a suitable alternative, it is impractical and undesirable to impose a blanket ban on the use of plastic all over the country. The real challenge is to improve plastic waste management systems, he added.

The ministry had initially notified the Recycled Plastic Manufacture and Usage Rules in 1999, which was mainly on manufacturing and usage of plastic carry bags. It was specified that the minimum thickness of plastic bags should be of 20 microns. The Plastic Waste (Management and Handling) Rules, 2011, laid down certain conditions for manufacturing, stocking, sale and use of plastic carry bags and sachets, which were required to be monitored and implemented by the State Pollution Control Boards/ Municipal Authorities. It specified that the minimum thickness of plastic bags should be of 40 microns. This was to facilitate its collection and recycle. However, the implementation of these rules was not so effective because the ambit of these rules was limited to notified municipal areas whereas today, the plastic has reached to our rural areas also. There were no provisions on responsibility of waste generators. The rules did not address the promotion of conversion of waste to useful resources. Though, it provided for Extended Producers Responsibility for the establishment of waste management system and pricing of carry bags, those were not exercised by the local authorities as it was simply left at the discretion of municipal authorities.

To implement these rules more effectively and to give thrust on plastic waste minimization, source segregation, recycling, involving waste pickers, recyclers and waste processors in collection of plastic waste and adopt polluter pays principle for the sustainability of the waste management system, the Centre reviewed the existing rules and drafted revised rules. Stakeholders' consultation meets were organised in New Delhi, Mumbai and Kolkata, wherein major Associations, industrial units, experts in various fields were invited. Based on the suggestions and objections received, which were examined by a Working Group, the Plastic Waste Management Rules, 2016 have come into force.
